BLAINE AGAIN.

The Plumed Knight is Interviewed at Paris in Regard to His Nomination for President.

NEW YORK, May 21—A correspondent of the Press at Paris cables that paper that he had carried to Mr. Blaine the stories that he would be nominated at Chicago, and Mr. Blaine said: "Without equivocation that his Florence letter and his later interview, which Mr. Crawford secured for the World, represented his present attitude with complete truth. He had felt sure that after his letter had been published, he could not see why so many should assume, even in matters of the greatest impertance, to his own domestic and personal interests, as well as to those of his party, that it was impossible for him to be honest. He did not want to be a candidate and he had reasons, which were personal to himself and which as they could so readily be imagined, he was under no obligation to make known. The prospects of republican success was too good for any loyal republican leaders to fritter away the confidence of the party by any course that would be uncalled for, as well as dishonest."

VIEWS OF GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

NEW YORK, May 21.—George Wm. Curtis, in an interview, says he thinks Mr. Blaine will be the republican nominee for president and that Mr. Cleveland will defeat him. Mr. Curtis thinks the mugwumps will support Cleveland rather than Blaine, but if some one besides Blaine is the republican nominee the mugwumps will probably vote the republican ticket. Mr. Curtis thinks this will certainly be the case if Gresham is nominated.

RELIGIOUS CONVENTIONS.

The Presbyterians at Philadelphia and the Methodists at New York.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—In the Presbyterian general assembly the report of the committee on the question of an organic union with the Southern church was made the second order of the day for Friday, May 25th. The report of the standing committee on missions for freedman showed receipts from the churches amounting to $131,652, a gain of $35,131 over the preceeding year, in addition to contributions from the colored people of over $25,000.

NEW YORK, May 21.—To-day's session of the general methodist conference was presided over by Bishop Waldon.

The committee on ecumenical council reported a resolution that each annual conference should send two clerical and two lay delegates. It was amended so as to have but two representatives instead of four and adopted. The general conference is not to incur any expense in connection with these delegates.

The ecumenical council committee on episcopacy reported the order of election and recommended that all nominations for offices, except bishops, be made in open conference and without comment. The bishops will be first elected, then agents, then secretary, then editors.

There was a large crowd present to witness the trouble.

WASHINGTON!

The House Will Not Enter Upon the Consideration of the Tariff Bill Before Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The ways and means committee this morning agreed that the house should not enter upon the consideration of the tariff bill for amendment before Wednesday, if then; action after that day depending upon the result of the republican caucus tomorrow night.

The senate amendments to the pension appropriation were non-concurred, and an additional conference ordered.

The president sent the nomination to the senate to-day of Thomas J. Smith, of New Hampshire, to be solicitor of internal revenue.

The house has passed the department of agriculture bill. Yeas, 233; nays, 13.

To-day's Capital says: "We fear the Hon. Bayless W. Hanna will have to come home. He is not doing the United States any particular good as a representative to the Argentine Republic; not that he is any worse than several of his predecessors, but he is better adapted to shine in Indiana than anywhere else." Reports received here to the effect that Bayless is wrestling frequently with John Barleycorn are the basis for this fear.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

Munzebrock, the Cincinnati Saloonkeeper, Given a New Trial.

CINCINNATI, May 21.—Judge Robertson, of the common please court, before whom the petition in error was heared in the case of Henry Munzebrock, found guilty of violating the Owen law, gave a decision this morning, granting a new trial upon the purely technical ground that no warrant for the arrest of Munzebrock had been issued and therefore the police court had no jurisdiction.

George Thomas, a peddler, shot and killed Maggie Wise, a divorced woman living at No. 5 Whitney court, this forenoon. He then shot himself through the Temple.

Thomas and Mrs. Wise have been living together for some time as man and wife. Recently they had violent quarrels. He went to the house under the influence of liquor this morning and a quarrel arose which ended in the death of both.

"DRY" DAY IN ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—Yesterday was the first day of the Sunday closing law, and St Louis was dry to all intent and purpose. There were about forty arrests for violations, and the saloons were closed except in a few cases, where the proprietors insisted on defying the police. The result of this was the arrest on a second, and in some cases a third charge. Indeed, the officers kept a close watch on such cases, and as soon as the doors were reopened the proprietors were again arrested.

COL. A. W. NORRIS.

The Death of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Col. A. Wilson Norris, auditor-general of Pennsylvania, died in this city this morning from prostration of the nervous system.

The Perfection of System.

If results measure the value of any system, then Prof. Loisettee's System of Memory is the most perfect effort we have ever seen. It does not make a new memory; but it takes the old one, and by a method of training, physiological and scientific, marvelous powers of retention are given to it. It is wonderful. Send for prospectus to Prof. Loisette, 237 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

B'nai B'rith.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 21.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the District Grand lodge, No. 2, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, opened in this city, at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning. MAINE PROHIBITION.

A Reporter Finds Wine Served at Hotel Dinners and Forty Open Saloons at Portland.

PORTLAND, Maine, May 21.—The agitation in West Virginia over the proposed prohibitory amendment in that state, has led several persons to write to prominent temperance men in Maine, asking for a statement as to the practical working of the liquor law here.

A great many replies have been sent, detailing the excellent effect of the constitutional amendment, and telling in glowing terms how "rum has at last been banished from the pioneer prohibition state" and saying that "not a glass of liquor is now to be had for love or money."

A New York paper recently published the discoveries of a correspondent in the state, which showed a different state of facts. Thereupon Mr. Chas. B. Hart, of the Wheeling Intelligencer, visited Maine on a tour of investigation for himself. Here he found wine served at a hotel dinner and in a short stroll found forty open saloons for the sale of intoxicating liquors. A similar state of affairs was discovered at Augusta and Bangor.

THE GREAT FLOOD.

Recedes and Leaves a Terrible Story of Destruction and Suffering In Its Wake.

QUINCY, Ill., May 21.—The great flood in the Mississippi, which will be remembered as without a precedent in the destruction and suffering it created, is slowly receding and it is thought that the worst of the high water is passed, but the worst that could happen has already occurred. Hundreds of families have been rendered homeless and thousands of acres of growing crops ruined, to say nothing of the loss entailed by the demolished dwellings, wrecked fences and washouts.

The damage to railroad property is enormous and it will be three weeks after the water subsides before trains can be running on time. The aggregate losses will reach fully $3,000,000 from crops alone. The damage to houses and railroads approxamate $600,000.

The original "Bunch of Keys" will have its ninth annual presentation at the Temple Monday evening, May 28th. This play has scored a success that will long be remembered in dramatic annals. Messages would be received from the depot without the use of poles or wires, by his new airiphone system of telegraphy through the air. Frank Stonder, of the Temple, was heard to say: "Rats! HON. ROBERT S. COWDEY, the candidate of the union labor party for president, is a native of Lafayette, Ind., and his parents reside there.

IN the First district the democrats have nominated Hon. William F. Parrett for congress and he promises to make it interesting for General Hovey.

JOEL P. HEATWOLE, formerly an editor of the Goshen Times, but now of Minnesota, has been elected one of the delegates at large to the Chicago convention as a Gresham man. This should encourage the Gazette man to go into the northwest for solace.

NEW YORKERS are still talking of Colonel Ingersoll's eulogy of Roscoe Conkling, which they pronounce equal to anything of its kind ever delivered in this country. It is not as poetical an effort, however, as the same speaker's eulogy of his late brother—Eben C. Ingersoll—delivered some years ago in Washington. But it is less despairing and contains many beautiful lines. The sentence which finds particular favor—one which has become a popular expression already—is the one which, touching on the dead man's unspotted integrity, runs: "He had the pride of a prince and the fortune of a peasan."

THE Indianapolis Labor Signal is disappointed with the result of the national union labor convention at Cincinnati, claiming that "the convention wwas manipulated for the purpose of preventing a union by men who feared that their prestige as leaders might be destroyed by the introduction of a new and vigorous element." It further says "that the basis of representation named in the call was ignored, and dozens of men of the Billy Patterson stripe were given seats and their howl was for more greenbacks and no union with the McGlynn crowd. Billy himself was there in all his glory and marvelous eloquence."

THROUGH the efforts of Governor Gray the state has been put in the way of receiving a large sum of money from the general government, and some of it has been paid in the past few days. Since the government made a distribution of swamp lands to the various states for school purposes, in 1857, there has been a belief that Indiana was not given as much as she was entitled to, and various governors have made efforts to get indemnity for it, but they have been unsuccessful, as nearly all the witnesses who know about the lands to which the state was entitled are now dead. The matter was given up by them until Governor Gray came into office, when he renewed the effort, but in another direction, and that was to establish the proof by the evidence of the field notes, taken in the surveys at that time. He received a letter from the secretary of the interior saying that a settlement might be made on that basis, and he appointed William E. Malloy, succeeding Julian & Malloy, whose work in this direction has been unavailing, to prosecute the matter, and the governor also gave it his personal attention. Last year, as a result of this, the state secured indemnity for 8,000 acres, about $12,000 in all, and yesterday the governor received a draft for $6,996.10 on the same account, which he placed to the credit of the state. He thinks the state will yet get indemnity for 20,000 or 30,000 more, at the rate of $1.25 an acre, which is almost like "finding" so much money, for it would never have been paid over unless the matter had been properly presented to the authorities at Washington.

A SENSATION EXPLODED.

The Story of the Death of Little Ragina Lauer From Poisoning is Proven Ludicrously Untrue.

The Gazette Sunday printed a sensational story leading one to suspect that Ragina, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lauer, of 129 Lafayette street, had died from the effects of poison administered through a doughnut given by Mrs. Lauer.

There is not the remotest ground for believing that the child was poisoned, for the truth is it died from convulsions.

Dr. J. W. Younge, who had been called in, was not satisfied at the manner of the girl's death, which occurred Friday night, and with Dr. H. S. Myers and Coroner Stellhorn, made a post mortem examination of the remains Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Younge discovered evidence of arsenic in the stomach and a "gradual eating away," as the Gazette puts it.

The arsenic is explained by the undertakers, Schone & Wellman, who injected it, with other compounds, into the dead child's stomach and arteries to preserve it from immediate decomposition.

The instrument used by the undertakers, and they are alike the world over, pierced and lacerated the membranes of the stomach and penetrated a portion of the liver. This was the "gradual eating away" so graphically described.

Prof. Drier, the high school chemist, made an analysis of the stomach, and found the facts as stated, backed, too, by the testimony of the undertakers who did the work.

The Gazette intimates that two other children of the Lauer family died mysterious deaths. Drs. Laubach and McCausland, who attended them in their illness, will certify that this statement is totally untrue.

Prosecutor Robinson pronounces the publications against the Lauer family as infamous and Coroner Stellhorn will dismiss the case.

The Gazette can justify itself on its informant, but altogether it is a ludicrous error, and it remains to be seen how Mr. and Mrs. Lauer are to be appeased.

Mr. Lauer is quite well known and a car builder for the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne railroad company.

DRS. LAUBACH AND M'CAUSLAND TALK.

To the Editor of The Sentinel:

In the Gazette of yesterday morning appears an article under the head of "Poisoned," so heartless and brutal, that we deem it necessary to make this statement.

The first child died of a malignant type of typhoid fever, after an illness of about two weeks.

The second child died of pericarditis, complicated by a valvular lesion of several years standing.

A. J. LAUBACH, M. D.,
DR. J. W. MCCAUSLAND.

ONE MORE.

The Galesburg Railroad to be Built Through Fort Wayne.

The Indianapolis News says:

The American Midland Railway company, recently organized in New York, it seems, proposes to run its lines in every direction. The main lines were originally intended to run from New York to Boston and Cincinnati, with branches in various directions, but a copy of resolutions adopted by the directors last Tuesday, which were received by the state secretary to-day, shows that they have decided to extend their lines across Indiana, through Allen and the northern tier of counties to Chicago, and then run two other lines, one to Galesburg, Ill., and the other to Danville, Ill. The request, "Please don't let the newspapers get this," accompanied the papers.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

Notice to Democratic Voters.

The primary elections of the democratic party should be as carefully and honestly managed as regular elections. In this manner delegates are selected to nominate candidates and every democrat should take as deep an interest in selecting candidates as in electing them. I, therefore, desire that the election boards should be composed of men of good standing, who can act with fairness to all candidates, and that they keep a list of the names of every voter. No man should be allowed to vote who does not agree to support the democratic candidate for president at the next election.

CHARLES MCCULLOCH,
Chairman Democratic Central Committee.

THE desire of more and more rises by a natural gradation to most, and after that to all.—L'Estrange.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVean, 262 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headaches, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

ACCIDENTAL MARRIAGES.

[London Tid-Bits.]

Marriages are often the result of accident. It seems strange, but the most prudent persons will sometimes conceive an irresistible attachment at the suggestion of a word or look. When once under the spell of the verb "to love," they go through all the forms and finish the conjugation of the verb before the altar. The few may give the subject the consideration it deserves, but the many, there is fear, are guided by impulse. A skipper of a coasting vessel called at the village inn and asked the landlady, a young widow: "Do you know where I can get a mate? I have lost my mate."

"I am sorry for you, Mr. ——," she said. "I want a mate, too, and cannot get one. I'll do; if you'll be mine I'll be yours." He closed with the bargain, and the widow keeping her word, he is now supplied with two mates.

A young man at a church bazar was button-holed by a lady; she would not let him go until he bought something. He looked at her stall, which contained fancy work of various kinds.

"Why," he said, "I see nothing here that would be of the least use to me, a bachelor, except yourself. The rest would be dear to me at any price."

"I will be cheap enough," she said, coaxingly.

"If you could be dear enough, perhaps—"

"Oh, come! you are just the man I want," taking him by the arm.

She sold him one article after another keeping up agreeable conversation the while, and before all was done he had purchased everything on the stall. Then at settling up there was something said about discount.

"I cannot return any money," she said, blushingly, "but if you think me dear enough, there's mamma. She can give you my hand." The bargain was accordingly concluded.

An eminent doctor, who had saved the life of a lady, a personal friend, was asked his charge. He said he generally allowed his patient friends to remunerate him as they thought befitting.

"Don't you often get disappointed on these terms?" she inquired.

"I may say, never."

"As you are so easily pleased—here," and she playfully gave him her empty hand, while in the other was concealed a check for a handsome sum. "How easily I could have taken you in," she added, producing the check.

"But you have only succeeded in drawing me out," he said, declining to relinquish her hand. "Don't insult me with a check. I am most generously rewarded."

Perhaps she understood the doctor's difficulty and wished to help him out of it. At any rate the giving of her hand led him to offer his heart.

This was how a gentleman got his wife: When in a tobacconist shop he asked a girl behind the counter who happened to have red hair if she would oblige him with a match.

"With pleasure, if you will have a red-headed one," she promptly replied, with such a suggestive, demure smile that eventually the red-headed match was handed over.

A lady with a fine figure having taken a fancy to a valuable ring which she saw ticketed in a shop window, went aside to examine it. "It is exceedingly lovely. I wish it were mine," she said on satisfying herself. "What smaller figure will tempt you?"

"No other than the figure before me," he said, giving her an admiring look at the same time. "It is exceedingly lovely. I wish—I could tempt you with the ring."

"I think I'll take it," she said, laying down the money amid blushes. Of course, he accepted the money, but getting her address, he made such good use of the hint that the next ring which she got was given by him in church.

Quite as singular was the beginning of the man who went into a shop for a pair of shoes.

"I want them wide, please," he said to the girl in attendance, "as I have a good, broad understanding."

She laughed at the reference to the breadth of his feet, and said:

"A very good thing, too, in a man, but not in a woman."

"How do you make out that what is good in one sex is bad in the other?"

"Ah, it is quite simple. You see nature intended man to be supported by a firm sole, but women by a yielding husband."

Whether he made a yielding husband or not, report at any rate says that he made her his wife.

MRS. BREWSTER, wife of the late Attorney General of the United States, is a daughter of Robert J. Walker, who, during her childhood, was Secretary of the Treasury under the administration of President Polk. Her first husband was Mr. DeLeon, a brother of Mrs. Slidell, whose husband was a Senator from Louisiana during the Buchanan administration. When Slidell was sent to France as Minister of the Confederacy the DeLeons accompanied the family. The marriage proved an unhappy one and terminated in a separation, and at the conclusion of the war Mrs. DeLeon returned to Washington and lived with her widowed mother, who at the death of her husband was left in narrow circumstances. For a time Mrs. DeLeon filled a clerkship in the Treasury Department, but lost it when Mr. Boutwell became Secretary. Soon after she became acquainted with Mr. Brewster during his professional visits to Washington, and a marriage was the result, which restored her to influence and a high place in society.

Malarial poisons contain the germs of dangerous diseases. If these poisons accumulate in the system, Typhoid, Bilious, Intermittent or Chill Fever is sure to follow. Ayer's Ague Cure is a warranted specific for malaria.

The Book Agent.

"Come right in, young man, come right in and make yourself at home. I am very glad to see you. Take the easy chair there by the fire and warm yourself."

"I am afraid, sir, you do not know the purpose of my call. "I——"

"I understand it perfectly, sir; you are a book agent."

"You are right," the young man admitted with a faint attempt at a smile. "I—ventured to call at your home to show you a beautiful new work——"

"Certainly, sir. Put me down for one every time. Or, here, give me your subscription book and I will write my own name, so that there can be no mistake about in. Bob, you jump down and run out with sister a little bit while papa writes his name in the gentleman's book. That's a fine boy."

Agent, hesitating, and beginning timidly: "But this is quite an expensive work, sir. Would you not like to look at it first?"

"Not at all. That is not necessary. The more expensive the better for you, I presume?" with an inquiring smile.

"Oh, certainly, sir. And I am very much obliged to you. Now, which style of binding will you have it in—cloth, Russia leather, or morocco? Sixteen, twenty, and twenty-five is the way they run."

"Which will be the best for you?"

"Oh, don't mind about that, sir. Of course, my commission is in proportion to the amount of the sale, and I make more on a twenty-five dollar book than I do on a sixteen-dollar one. But—don't mind about that. Take the style that suits you best without——"

"I will do nothing of the kind, my dear sir. You are my guest now, remember, and it is my privilege to do everything in my power to make you happy. I will take the morocco."

Agent, overcome with emotions and with difficulty keeping back the tears from his soft, blue, hare-like eyes. "Thanks, sir, thanks. You are very good indeed. I perceive that I am in a Christian home, although a home of wealth and luxury."

"Well, I do try to do the decent thing with book agents. My wife says I have a weak spot for them and I don't know but I have. You see I regard book agents as a greatly misunderstood, underrated, and much-abused class of men and women. The people who write books are worshiped as gods and goddesses, the men who publish them rank high in the community, and even the ordinary book-seller is accounted respectable. But the poor agent, who with weary limbs, wearier jaw, and exhausted cheek, supplies an unappreciative public with the finest works of art and literature, which are 'sold only by subscription,' and which, but for him, they could never obtain at all—the tireless purveyor of these jewels of genius, if I may so call them, and I surely may—this man, I say, who has more genius, more Heaven-born inspiration, more eloquence, a more remarkable gift for extravagant statement, more resolution to withstand 'the proud man's contumely,' as Byron justly calls it, more patience to endure 'the stings and arrows of outrageous fortune' in dreary days, when 'into such life some rain must fall,' as Shakespeare puts it.

"This man, I say, is classed with beggars, lightning-rod agents, patent-medicine venders, and Jew peddlers, when he is really the most remarkable of the whole lot, and his mission—that of inducing ignorance and stupidity to purchase gems whose value they do not know—is, next to that of the plumber when the pipes are all frozen up, the most humanitarian and ennobling of any on earth! Yes, sir, I always try to give book agents a square deal when they come my way, as I think they will all testify."

"You are certainly a very remarkable man, sir; the most singular indeed that it has been my fortune to meet since I began the business. May I presume to ask what your business is? A retired capitalist, perhaps?—or the inheritor of one of those 'ample fortunes' of which we so often read in books that are not sold by subscription?"

"You are wide off the mark, sir—wide off the mark. I am a book agent, sir. I make $10,000 a year selling books by subscription."—Isaac Herr.

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequaled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

It Cheers but Not Inebriates.

Cheerful Friend — Hello, old man! You're looking frightfully solemn. Come over with me to Madison Square Garden, I've got a box.

Doleful Friend (encumbered with the remains of a heavy jag) What's the good of going over there? You can't get anything to drink.

Cheerful friend — You can always get a smile out of the acrobatic clowns, my boy. Every one of them is a tumbler full of spirits. Judge.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

41 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87.
The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist said "plasters are all about the same" but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. MRS. WILLIS MAGILL.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

Gifts of Poison.

It is time that respectable merchants combined with consumers for the suppression of all gift lottery schemes in connection with the sale of articles of merchandise. These schemes are not only demoralizing to legitimate business and to the morals of the community but in the extent in which they are being carried in the sale of articles of food have become a source of great danger to the public health. They are, no matter in what form they appear, nothing more or less than devices to swindle honest and unsuspecting people.

It is gratifying to learn that, in some instances, the officers of the law have taken hold of the matter. In New York and also in Chicago parties who in this way offered gifts to purchasers of their packages have recently been arrested upon indictments for lottery swindling. The latest candidates both for public execration and criminal prosecution, are the manufacturers of the alum baking powders, who are both, by means of gifts and lottery tickets, disposing of large quantities of their corrosively poisonous compounds, which are so well known to be detrimental to health that no housekeeper will admit them to her kitchen knowingly. This form of swindle is not only being peddled from house to house, but under the promise of large profits to be realized, the manufacturers are entrenching themselves behind the counters of many grocers by getting them to offer the alum goods with the gifts or lottery tickets attached, thereby shifting the liability to prosecution, in part, upon other, and perhaps innocent parties. Every grocer or dealer, for instance, who sells or offers for sale any of the prize or lottery baking powders is a criminal in the eyes of the law, and liable, upon conviction, to fine and imprisonment, while those who sell the gift goods are, morally, as responsible, for they are offering an inducement, or prize, to housekeepers to use a food that contains a corrosive poison. This is a predicament in which it is not possible our grocers will care to place themselves when they come to think seriously of the matter.

It must be borne in mind that every one of these gift or prize baking powders are alum baking powders. These powders cost less than four cents a pound to produce; the gift or prize costs but a few cents more. They are sold at the price of a first-class baking powder, so that the swindle, in a commercial sense, is enormous. But the chief iniquity of the business consists in selling, as presumably wholesome, an article of a positively injurious character, and by means of gifts or bribes inducing servants or unsuspecting housekeepers to purchase and use it in our daily food.

There should be some prompt method of reaching these dangerous practices and punishing the parties engaged in ther promotion. If the present laws are not ample, we commend the matter to the consideration of our state board of health for recommendation of such additional legislation as shall be effective for the public.

Miss Alice Von Sweringen.

The many friends of Miss Alice Von Sweringen will be pleased to learn of the success which attended her first appearance before a critical musical audience, such as Cincinnati has the reputation of turning out. Miss Alice was by far the youngest of the eighteen or nineteen ladies and gentlemen composing the coterie of performers, yet it will be observed that she heads the list of the few only whose names are mentioned as worthy of special notice. We are proud to know that the honors of the occasion were carried off by a Fort Wayne lady and THE SENTINEL accordingly extends its hearty congratulations. The following is from the Cincinnati Times-Star of the 15th inst.:

"The Odeon was completely filled last evening by a refined and appreciative audience that encouraged the talented pupils of Prof. Van Cleve with liberal and hearty applause.

The stage presented an inviting appearance, beautified by a mass of floral testimonials from admiring friends. The program was lengthy, eighteen numbers in all. And the excellence of every number was a compliment to both pupil and teacher. Perhaps special mention should be given Miss. Alice Von Sweringen for her piano playing. Her first selection was of her own composition." Then follow the compliments to the other artists.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

Monday's Sun Makes the Day Bright and Cheerful, But Not a Brilliant One for News.

The electric light works paid off their employes last Saturday.

The excursion business on the railroads has commenced in earnest.

Henry Darmeyer, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, is at Indianapolis on business.

Irvin Pierson went to Columbus today to take the foremanship of a large lumber establishment in that city.

There are a number of the employes of the Pittsburg car shops attending the picnic at the Apple Orchard to-day.

The Mellville company, who play at the Temple this week, came in on the Wabash this morning from the east.

The foundry department of the Bass works is closed down to-day. The employes are observing Pentecost Monday.

C. C. Mordough, the traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, is in the city to-day on business.

J. J. Bennigan, machinist in the Pittsburg shops, who has been on the sick list for the past week, reported for duty again this morning.

Mr. J. J. Becker, one of the popular foremen in the Pennsylvania works, celbrated the forty-eighth anniversary of his birth in a very pleasant manner yesterday.

The Pennsylvania company have signed contracts to establish through trains from Jersey City, on the Atlantic coast, to San Francisco, on the Pacific coast.

Did you ever get left? If you did not, for information regarding the feelings of those who have, ask two prominent foremen of the Pittsburg shops. We will not tell the joke, other than to say that they are out 10 cents for street car fare and 25 cents for drayage.

Mr. Robert Harrison, the foreman of the machine department of the Pittsburg car shops, is quite ill. While engaged in dressing yesterday morning he was seized with a cramp and fell to the floor of his room. He was very ill last evening, but is better this morning, although not able to be at work.

The game of base ball Saturday afternoon between two nines from the Pittsburg shops, resulted in favor of the wood machinists, under the command of Fred Kanning, by a score of thirty to twenty. Christ Dassler, who captained the other nine, said some of his best men were not able to play and that accounts for their defeat.

Jack Bristol, who pulls the throttle of an engine out in Idaho, tells a singular story of a big owl, which occurred on one of his recent runs to Spring Hill. His engine was running at a good speed just above Blackfeet, when his headlight suddenly went out. He supposed it had blown out, and as daylight was coming on shortly, continued his run to Eagle Rock. There he made an investigation, and, to his surprise, found a big owl snugly ensconsed behind the burner. He had been attracted by the glare of the headlight, and had made a dive for it while the engine was going at full speed. The glass was broken and the flame had been put out by the flap of his wings. He was easily captured, entirely unharmed, and borne in triumph to Butte, where he now sagaciously blinks behind the bar of a popular saloon.

There are all sorts of rumors flying around among railroad men in regard to new strike troubles on the roads centering at Chicago and our reporter hears a great deal of talk from the men during his rounds among them, but the probability is that the threatened trouble is greatly exaggerated and that it will not, at any rate, affect the Pennsylvania. The rumor was current this morning that the strike of the engineers on the "Q" road would be resumed at Chicago to-morrow and that the Pennsylvania company would join in it. In speaking with an official of the Pittsburg this morning—a gentleman who is in a position to know—our reporter learned that all this talk about new trouble was without any good foundation. Said he: "I do not think the roads will have any serious trouble with their train men and it will not affect the Pennsylvania company, anyhow. The reports you hear going around are greatly exaggerated."

Col. Sam B. Sweet was in the city over Sunday.

BLAINE AGAIN.

The Plumed Knight is Interviewed at Paris in Regard to His Nomination for President.

New York, May 21—A correspondent of the Press at Paris cables that paper that he had carried to Mr. Blaine the stories that he would be nominated at Chicago, and Mr. Blaine said: "Without equivocation that his Florence letter and his later interview, which Mr. Crawford secured for the World, represented his present attitude with complete truth. He had felt sure that after his letter had been published, he could not see why so many should assume, even in matters of the greatest importance, to his own domestic and personal interests, as well as to those of his party, that it was impossible for him to be honest. He did not want to be a candidate and he had reasons, which were personal to himself and which as they could so readily be imagined, he was under no obligation to make known. The prospects of republican success was too good for any loyal republican leaders to fritter away the confidence of the party by any course that would be uncalled for, as well as dishonest."

VIEWS OF GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

New York, May 21.—George Wm. Curtis, in an interview, says he thinks Mr. Blaine will be the republican nominee for president and that Mr. Cleveland will defeat him. Mr. Curtis thinks the mugwumps will support Cleveland rather than Blaine, but if some one beside Blaine is the republican nominee the mugwumps will probably vote the republican ticket. Mr. Curtis thinks this will certainly be the case if Gresham is nominated.

RELIGIOUS CONVENTIONS.

The Presbyterians at Philadelphia and the Methodists at New York.

Philadelphia, May 21.—In the Presbyterian general assembly the report of the committee on the question of an organic union with the Southern church was made the second order of the day for Friday, May 25th. The report of the standing committee on missions for freedmen showed receipts from the churches amounting to $181,652, a gain of $35,131 over the preceeding year, in addition to contributions from the colored people of over $25,000.

New York, May 21.—To-day's session of the general methodist conference was presided over by Bishop Walden.

The committee on ecumenical council reported a resolution that each annual conference should send two clerical and two lay delegates. It was amended so as to have but two representatives instead of four and adopted. The general conference is not to incur any expense in connection with these delegates.

The ecumenical council committee on episcopacy reported the order of election and recommended that all nominations for offices, except bishops, be made in open conference and without comment. The bishops will be first elected, then agents, then secretary, then editors.

The Fort Wayne-Elkhart Game.

Elkhart, May 21.—The Inter-state league ball game, played here yesterday afternoon by the Elkhart and Fort Wayne clubs, was won by the Elkhart club by a score of 5 to 3. It was understood that both clubs would be arrested for participating in a Sunday game, though a sacred concert was also given, but the arrests were not made. They will probably be made to-day. There was a large crowd present to witness the trouble.

WASHINGTON!

The House Will Not Enter Upon the Consideration of the Tariff Bill Before Wednesday.

Washington, May 21.—The ways and means committee this morning agreed that the house should not enter upon the consideration of the tariff bill for amendment before Wednesday, if then; action after that day depending upon the result of the republican caucus to-morrow night.

The senate amendments to the pension appropriation were non-concurred, and an additional conference ordered.

The president sent the nomination to the senate to-day of Thomas J. Smith, of New Hampshire, to be solicitor of internal revenue.

The house has passed the department of agriculture bill. Yeas, 233; nays, 13.

To-day's Capital says: "We fear the Hon. Bayless W. Hanna will have to come home. He is not doing the United States any particular good as a representative to the Argentine Republic; not that he is any worse than several of his predecessors, but he is better adapted to shine in Indiana than anywhere else." Reports received here to the effect that Bayless is wrestling frequently with John Barleycorn are the basis for this fear.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

Munsebrock, the Cincinnati Saloonkeeper, Given a New Trial.

Cincinnati, May 21.—Judge Robertson, of the common please court, before whom the petition in error was heard in the case of Henry Munsebrock, found guilty of violating the Owen law, gave a decision this morning, granting a new trial upon the purely technical ground that no warrant for the arrest of Munsebrock had been issued and therefore the police court had no jurisdiction.

George Thomas, a peddler, shot and killed Maggie Wise, a divorced woman living at No. 5 Whitney court, this forenoon. He then shot himself through the Temple.

Thomas and Mrs. Wise have been living together for some time as man and wife. Recently they had violent quarrels. He went to the house under the influence of liquor this morning and a quarrel arose which ended in the death of both.

"DEF" DAY IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, May 21.—Yesterday was the first day of the Sunday closing law, and St. Louis was dry to all intent and purpose. There were about forty arrests for violations, and the saloons were closed except in a few cases, where the proprietors insisted on defying the police. The result of this was the arrest on a second, and in some cases a third charge. Indeed, the officers kept a close watch on such cases, and as soon as the doors were reopened the proprietors were again arrested.

COL. A. W. NORRIS.

The Death of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, May 21.—Col. A. Wilson Norris, auditor-general of Pennsylvania, died in this city this morning from prostration of the nervous system.

The Perfection of System.

If results measure the value of any system, then Prof. Loisette's System of Memory is the most perfect effort we have ever seen. It does not make a new memory; but it takes the old one, and by a method of training, physiological and scientific, marvelous powers of retention are given to it. It is wonderful. Send for prospectus to Prof. Loisette, 237 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

B'nai B'rith.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 21.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the District Grand lodge, No. 2, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, opened in this city, at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning. MAINE PROHIBITION.

A Reporter Finds Wine Served at Hotel Dinners and Forty Open Saloons at Portland.

Portland, Maine, May 21.—The agitation in West Virginia over the proposed prohibitory amendment in that state, has led several persons to write to prominent temperance men in Maine, asking for a statement as to the practical working of the liquor law here.

A great many replies have been sent, detailing the excellent effect of the constitutional amendment, and telling in glowing terms how "rum has at last been banished from the pioneer prohibition state" and saying that "not a glass of liquor is now to be had for love or money."

A New York paper recently published the discoveries of a correspondent in the state, which showed a different state of facts. Thereupon Mr. Chas. B. Hart, of the Wheeling Intelligencer, visited Maine on a tour of investigation for himself. Here he found wine served at a hotel dinner and in a short stroll found forty open saloons for the sale of intoxicating liquors. A similar state of affairs was discovered at Augusta and Bangor.

THE GREAT FLOOD.

Recedes and Leaves a Terrible Story of Destruction and Suffering In Its Wake.

Quincy, Ill., May 21.—The great flood in the Mississippi, which will be remembered as without a precedent in the destruction and suffering it created, is slowly receding and it is thought that the worst of the high water is passed, but the worst that could happen has already occurred. Hundreds of families have been rendered homeless and thousands of acres of growing crops ruined, to say nothing of the loss entailed by the demolished dwellings, wrecked fences and washouts.

The damage to railroad property is enormous and it will be three weeks after the water subsides before trains can be running on time. The aggregate losses will reach fully $3,000,000 from crops alone. The damage to houses and railroads approximate $600,000.

Mr. Ira I. Grubb, of Springfield township, announces himself to-day as a candidate for county commissioner from the Second district. Mr. Grubb is a prominent, successful farmer, a gentleman of wide experience and business tact. He is a life-long democrat and will have great strength, as he is well thought of.

Col. I. B. McDonald announces himself elsewhere as a candidate for joint senator. Colonel McDonald is too well known to need any encomiums from the press. He is a great champion of the soldiers, was as fearless in the state senate as on the battlefield and is very popular. He is filling Hon. Eli W. Brown's unexpired term.

The original "Bunch of Keys" will have its ninth annual presentation at the Temple Monday evening, May 28th. This play has scored a success that will long be remembered in dramatic annals. It is without a doubt the most amusing and most to be appreciated satire upon the present system of running hotels that has ever been produced.

On May 27 and 28, one week from yesterday and to-day, the students at Notre Dame University will grandly celebrate Father Sorin's fiftieth or golden jubilee anniversary of his assuming the duties of the priesthood. The students propose to make this an event long to be pleasurably remembered by the reverend father general. The congregation there will celebrate the same event in August.

There were two runaways yesterday, one of them went west on Wayne street last evening at a furious gait. The team was owned by Mr. Hogett and was driven by Mr. John Noll. After the driving he turned the horses and carriage over to three boys to drive to the livery stable and the horses ran away. Two of the lads hung on to the lines in great style, while the third sat back smiling and laughing as though the thing was a picnic for him. The boys, very fortunately, escaped unhurt.

A young man cleaning the very dirty windows of the deserted telegraph office, in the Aveline house, this morning, was the object of much interest. Manager Perry solemnly assured enquirers that the problem of Calhoun street telegraphy had been solved, and that the office would be reopened to-morrow. Messages would be received from the depot without the use of poles or wires, by his new sirlphone system of telegraphy through the air. Frank Stonder, of the Temple, was heard to say: "Rats! I cleaned the windows so our show bills could be seen."

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with the best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

EX-SECRETARY THOMPSON, of the navy, is seriously ill at his home in Terre Haute.

BLAINE and Depew have started a mutual admiration society, with headquarters in Europe and America.

JUDGE GRESHAM was tendered a reception at Lafayette Saturday evening, and it was he who declined to see the Morton club.

LOVE, who was nominated for vice-president on the ticket with Belva Lockwood, declines the honor. 'Twas ever thus with Belva.

THE nomination of Hon. Val Zimmerman, in the Tenth, or Logansport district, is received with great enthusiasm by the democrats.

HON. ROBERT S. COWDEN, the candidate of the union labor party for president, is a native of Lafayette, Ind., and his parents reside there.

IN the First district the democrats have nominated Hon. William F. Parrett for congress and he promises to make it interesting for General Hovey.

JOEL P. HEATWOLE, formerly an editor of the Goshen Times, but now of Minnesota, has been elected one of the delegates at large to the Chicago convention as a Gresham man. This should encourage the Gazette man to go into the northwest for solace.

NEW YORKERS are still talking of Colonel Ingersoll's eulogy of Roscoe Conkling, which they pronounce equal to anything of its kind ever delivered in this country. It is not as poetical an effort, however, as the same speaker's eulogy of his late brother—Eben C. Ingersoll—delivered some years ago in Washington. But it is less despairing and contains many beautiful lines. The sentence which finds particular favor—one which has become a popular expression already—is the one which, touching on the dead man's unspotted integrity, runs: "He had the pride of a prince and the fortune of a peasant."

THE Indianapolis Labor Signal is disappointed with the result of the national union labor convention at Cincinnati, claiming that "the convention was manipulated for the purpose of preventing a union by men who feared that their prestige as leaders might be destroyed by the introduction of a new and vigorous element." It further says "that the basis of representation named in the call was ignored, and dozens of men of the Billy Patterson stripe were given seats and their howl was for more greenbacks and no union with the McGlynn crowd. Billy himself was there in all his glory and marvelous eloquence."

THROUGH the efforts of Governor Gray the state has been put in the way of receiving a large sum of money from the general government, and some of it has been paid in the past few days. Since the government made a distribution of swamp lands to the various states for school purposes, in 1857, there has been a belief that Indiana was not given as much as she was entitled to, and various governors have made efforts to get indemnity for it, but they have been unsuccessful, as nearly all the witnesses who know about the lands to which the state was entitled are now dead. The matter was given up by them until Governor Gray came into office, when he renewed the effort, but in another direction, and that was to establish the proof by the evidence of the field notes, taken in the surveys at that time. He received a letter from the secretary of the interior saying that a settlement might be made on that basis, and he appointed William E. Malloy, succeeding Julian & Malloy, whose work in this direction has been unavailing, to prosecute the matter, and the governor also gave it his personal attention. Last year, as a result of this, the state secured indemnity for 6,000 acres, about $12,000 in all, and yesterday the governor received a draft for $6,996.10 on the same account, which he placed to the credit of the state. He thinks the state will yet get indemnity for 20,000 or 30,000 more, at the rate of $1.25 an acre, which is almost like "finding" so much money, for it would never have been paid over unless the matter had been properly presented to the authorities at Washington.

A SENSATION EXPLODED.

The Story of the Death of Little Ragina Lauer From Poisoning is Proven Ludicrously Untrue.

The Gazette Sunday printed a sensational story leading one to suspect that Ragina, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lauer, of 129 Lafayette street, had died from the effects of poison administered through a doughnut given by Mrs. Lauer.

There is not the remotest ground for believing that the child was poisoned, for the truth is it died from convulsions.

Dr. J. W. Younge, who had been called in, was not satisfied at the manner of the girl's death, which occurred Friday night, and with Dr. H. S. Myers and Coroner Stellhorn, made a post mortem examination of the remains Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Younge discovered evidence of arsenic in the stomach and a "gradual eating away," as the Gazette puts it.

The arsenic is explained by the undertakers, Schone & Wellman, who injected it, with other compounds, into the dead child's stomach and arteries to preserve it from immediate decomposition.

The instrument used by the undertakers, and they are alike the world over, pierced and lacerated the membranes of the stomach and penetrated a portion of the liver. This was the "gradual eating away" so graphically described.

Prof. Drier, the high school chemist, made an analysis of the stomach, and found the facts as stated, backed, too, by the testimony of the undertakers who did the work.

The Gazette intimates that two other children of the Lauer family died mysterious deaths. Drs. Laubach and McCausland, who attended them in their illness, will certify that this statement is totally untrue.

Prosecutor Robinson pronounces the publications against the Lauer family as infamous and Coroner Stellhorn will dismiss the case.

The Gazette can justify itself on its informant, but altogether it is a ludicrous error, and it remains to be seen how Mr. and Mrs. Lauer are to be appeased.

Mr. Lauer is quite well known and a car builder for the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne railroad company.

DRS. LAUBACH AND M'CAULEAND TALK.

To the Editor of The Sentinel:

In the Gazette of yesterday morning appears an article under the head of "Poisoned," so heartless and brutal, that we deem it necessary to make this statement.

The first child died of a malignant type of typhoid fever, after an illness of about two weeks.

The second child died of pericarditis, complicated by a valvular lesion of several years standing.

The Galesburg Railroad to be Built Through Fort Wayne.

The Indianapolis News says:

The American Midland Railway company, recently organized in New York, it seems, proposes to run its lines in every direction. The main lines were originally intended to run from New York to Boston and Cincinnati, with branches in various directions, but a copy of resolutions adopted by the directors last Tuesday, which were received by the state secretary to-day, shows that they have decided to extend their lines across Indiana, through Allen and the northern tier of counties to Chicago, and then run two other lines, one to Galesburg, Ill., and the other to Danville, Ill. The request, "Please don't let the newspapers get this," accompanied the papers.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

Notice to Democratic Voters.

The primary elections of the democratic party should be as carefully and honestly managed as regular elections. In this manner delegates are selected to nominate candidates and every democrat should take as deep an interest in selecting candidates as in electing them. I, therefore, desire that the election boards should be composed of men of good standing, who can act with fairness to all candidates, and that they keep a list of the names of every voter. No man should be allowed to vote who does not agree to support the democratic candidate for president at the next election.

CHARLES MCCULLOUGH,
Chairman Democratic Central Committee.

THE desire of more and more rises by a natural gravitation to most, and after that to all.—L'Estrange.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was; for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVean, 292 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

ACCIDENTAL MARRIAGES.

[London Tid-Bits.]

Marriages are often the result of accident. It seems strange, but the most prudent persons will sometimes conceive an irresistible attachment at the suggestion of a word or look. When once under the spell of the verb "to love," they go through all the forms and finish the conjugation of the verb before the altar. The few may give the subject the consideration it deserves, but the many, there is fear, are guided by impulse. A skipper of a coasting vessel called at the village inn and asked the landlady, a young widow: "Do you know where I can get a mate? I have lost my mate."

"I am sorry for you, Mr. ——," she said. "I want a mate, too, and cannot get one. I'll do; if you'll be mine I'll be yours." He closed with the bargain, and the widow keeping her word, he is now supplied with two mates.

A young man at a church bazar was button-holed by a lady; she would not let him go until he bought something. He looked at her stall, which contained fancy work of various kinds.

"Why," he said, "I see nothing here that would be of the least use to me, a bachelor, except yourself. The rest would be dear to me at any price."

"I will be cheap enough," she said, coaxingly.

"If you could be dear enough, perhaps—"

"Oh, come! you are just the man I want," taking him by the arm.

She sold him one article after another keeping up agreeable conversation the while, and before all was done he had purchased everything on the stall. Then at settling up there was something said about discount.

"I cannot return any money," she said, blushingly, "but if you think me dear enough, there's mamma. She can give you my hand." The bargain was accordingly concluded.

An eminent doctor, who had saved the life of a lady, a personal friend, was asked his charge. He said he generally allowed his patient friends to remunerate him as they thought befitting.

"Don't you often get disappointed on these terms?" she inquired.

"I may say, never."

"As you are so easily pleased—here," and she playfully gave him her empty hand, while in the other was concealed a check for a handsome sum. "How easily I could have taken you in," she added, producing the check.

"But you have only succeeded in drawing me out," he said, declining to relinquish her hand. "Don't insult me with a check. I am most generously rewarded."

Perhaps she understood the doctor's difficulty and wished to help him out of it. At any rate the giving of her hand led him to offer his heart.

This was how a gentleman got his wife: When in a tobacconist shop he asked a girl behind the counter who happened to have red hair if she would oblige him with a match.

"With pleasure, if you will have a red-headed one," she promptly replied, with such a suggestive, demure smile that eventually the red-headed match was handed over.

A lady with a fine figure having taken a fancy to a valuable ring which she saw ticketed in a shop window, went aside to examine it. "It is exceedingly lovely. I wish it were mine," she said on satisfying herself. "What smaller figure will tempt you?"

"No other than the figure before me," he said, giving her an admiring look at the same time. "It is exceedingly lovely. I wish—I could tempt you with the ring."

"I think I'll take it," she said, laying down the money amid blushes. Of course, he accepted the money, but getting her address, he made such good use of the hint that the next ring which she got was given by him in church.

Quite as singular was the beginning of the man who went into a shop for a pair of shoes.

"I want them wide, please," he said to the girl in attendance, "as I have a good, broad understanding."

She laughed at the reference to the breadth of his feet, and said:

"A very good thing, too, in a man, but not in a woman."

"How do you make out that what is good in one sex is bad in the other?"

"Ah, it is quite simple. You see nature intended man to be supported by a firm sole, but women by a yielding husband."

Whether he made a yielding husband or not, report at any rate says that he made her his wife.

Mrs. Brewster, wife of the late Attorney General of the United States, is a daughter of Robert J. Walker, who, during her childhood, was Secretary of the Treasury under the administration of President Polk. Her first husband was Mr. DeLeon, a brother of Mrs. Slidell, whose husband was a Senator from Louisiana during the Buchanan administration. When Slidell was sent to France as Minister of the Confederacy the DeLeons accompanied the family. The marriage proved an unhappy one and terminated in a separation, and at the conclusion of the war Mrs. DeLeon returned to Washington and lived with her widowed mother, who at the death of her husband was left in narrow circumstances. For a time Mrs. DeLeon filled a clerkship in the Treasury Department, but lost it when Mr. Boutwell became Secretary. Soon after she became acquainted with Mr. Brewster during his professional visits to Washington, and a marriage was the result, which restored her to influence and a high place in society.

Malarial poisons contain the germs of dangerous diseases. If these poisons accumulate in the system, Typhoid, Bilious, Intermittent or Chill Fever is sure to follow. Ayer's Ague Cure is a warranted specific for malaria.

The Book Agent.

"Come right in, young man, come right in and make yourself at home. I am very glad to see you. Take the easy chair there by the fire and warm yourself."

"I am afraid, sir, you do not know the purpose of my call. "I——"

"I understand it perfectly, sir; you are a book agent."

"You are right," the young man admitted with a faint attempt at a smile. "I—ventured to call at your home to show you a beautiful new work——"

"Certainly, sir. Put me down for one every time. Or, here, give me your subscription book and I will write my own name, so that there can be no mistake about in. Bob, you jump down and run out with sister a little bit while papa writes his name in the gentleman's book. That's a fine boy."

Agent, hesitating, and beginning timidly: "But this is quite an expensive work, sir. Would you not like to look at it first?"

"Not at all. That is not necessary. The more expensive the better for you, I presume?" with an inquiring smile.

"Oh, certainly, sir. And I am very much obliged to you. Now, which style of binding will you have it in—cloth, Russia leather, or morocco? Sixteen, twenty, and twenty-five is the way they run."

"Which will be the best for you?"

"Oh, don't mind about that, sir. Of course, my commission is in proportion to the amount of the sale, and I make more on a twenty-five dollar book than I do on a sixteen-dollar one. But—don't mind about that. Take the style that suits you best without——"

"I will do nothing of the kind, my dear sir. You are my guest now, remember, and it is my privilege to do everything in my power to make you happy. I will take the morocco."

Agent, overcome with emotions and with difficulty keeping back the tears from his soft, blue, hare-like eyes. "Thanks, sir, thanks. You are very good indeed. I perceive that I am in a Christian home, although a home of wealth and luxury."

"Well, I do try to do the decent thing with book agents. My wife says I have a weak spot for them and I don't know but I have. You see I regard book agents as a greatly misunderstood, underrated, and much-abused class of men and women. The people who write books are worshiped as gods and goddesses, the men who publish them rank high in the community, and even the ordinary book-seller is accounted respectable. But the poor agent, who with weary limbs, wearier jaw, and exhausted cheek, supplies an unappreciative public with the finest works of art and literature, which are 'sold only by subscription,' and which, but for him, they could never obtain at all—the tireless purveyor of these jewels of genius, if I may so call them, and I surely may—this man, I say, who has more genius, more Heaven-born inspiration, more eloquence, a more remarkable gift for extravagant statement, more resolution to withstand 'the proud man's contumely,' as Byron justly calls it, more patience to endure 'the stings and arrows of outrageous fortune' in dreary days, when 'into such life some rain must fall,' as Shakespeare puts it.

"This man, I say, is classed with beggars, lightning-rod agents, patent-medicine venders, and Jew peddlers, when he is really the most remarkable of the whole lot, and his mission—that of inducing ignorance and stupidity to purchase gems whose value they do not know—is, next to that of the plumber when the pipes are all frozen up, the most humanitarian and ennobling of any on earth! Yes, sir, I always try to give book agents a square deal when they come my way, as I think they will all testify."

"You are certainly a very remarkable man, sir; the most singular indeed that it has been my fortune to meet since I began the business. May I presume to ask what your business is? A retired capitalist, perhaps?—or the inheritor of one of those 'ample fortunes' of which we so often read in books that are not sold by subscription?"

"You are wide off the mark, sir—wide off the mark. I am a book agent, sir. I make $10,000 a year selling books by subscription."—Isaac Herr.

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequaled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

It Cheers but Not Inebriates.

Cheerful friend — You can always get a smile out of the acrobatic clowns, my boy. Every one of them is a tumbler full of spirits.—Judge.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

40 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87.
The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist said "plasters small about the square" but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. Mrs. WILLIS MAGILL.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Diseases, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Gifts of Poison.

It is time that respectable merchants combined with consumers for the suppression of all gift lottery schemes in connection with the sale of articles of merchandise. These schemes are not only demoralizing to legitimate business and to the morals of the community but in the extent in which they are being carried in the sale of articles of food have become a source of great danger to the public health. They are, no matter in what form they appear, nothing more or less than devices to swindle honest and unsuspecting people.

It is gratifying to learn that, in some instances, the officers of the law have taken hold of the matter. In New York and also in Chicago parties who in this way offered gifts to purchasers of their packages have recently been arrested upon indictments for lottery swindling. The latest candidates both for public execration and criminal prosecution, are the manufacturers of the alum baking powders, who are both, by means of gifts and lottery tickets, disposing of large quantities of their corrosively poisonous compounds, which are so well known to be detrimental to health that no housekeeper will admit them to her kitchen knowingly. This form of swindle is not only being peddled from house to house, but under the promise of large profits to be realized, the manufacturers are entrenching themselves behind the counters of many grocers by getting them to offer the alum goods with the gifts or lottery tickets attached, thereby shifting the liability to prosecution, in part, upon other, and perhaps innocent parties. Every grocer or dealer, for instance, who sells or offers for sale any of the prize or lottery baking powders is a criminal in the eyes of the law, and liable, upon conviction, to fine and imprisonment, while those who sell the gift goods are, morally, as responsible, for they are offering an inducement, or prize, to housekeepers to use a food that contains a corrosive poison. This is a predicament in which it is not possible our grocers will care to place themselves when they come to think seriously of the matter.

It must be borne in mind that every one of these gift or prize baking powders are alum baking powders. These powders cost less than four cents a pound to produce; the gift or prize costs but a few cents more. They are sold at the price of a first-class baking powder, so that the swindle, in a commercial sense, is enormous. But the chief iniquity of the business consists in selling, as presumably wholesome, an article of a positively injurious character, and by means of gifts or bribes inducing servants or unsuspecting housekeepers to purchase and use it in our daily food.

There should be some prompt method of reaching these dangerous practices and punishing the parties engaged in ther promotion. If the present laws are not ample, we commend the matter to the consideration of our state board of health for recommendation of such additional legislation as shall be effective for the public.

Miss Alice Von Sweringen.

The many friends of Miss Alice Von Sweringen will be pleased to learn of the success which attended her first appearance before a critical musical audience, such as Cincinnati has the reputation of turning out. Miss Alice was by far the youngest of the eighteen or nineteen ladies and gentlemen composing the coterie of performers, yet it will be observed that she heads the list of the few only whose names are mentioned as worthy of special notice. We are proud to know that the honors of the occasion were carried off by a Fort Wayne lady and THE SENTINEL accordingly extends its hearty congratulations. The following is from the Cincinnati Times-Star of the 15th inst.:

"The Odeon was completely filled last evening by a refined and appreciative audience that encouraged the talented pupils of Prof. Van Cleve with liberal and hearty applause.

The stage presented an inviting appearance, beautified by a mass of floral testimonials from admiring friends. The program was lengthy, eighteen numbers in all. And the excellence of every number was a compliment to both pupil and teacher. Perhaps special mention should be given Miss. Alice Von Sweringen for her piano playing. Her first selection was of her own composition," Then follow the compliments to the other artists.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

Monday's Sun Makes the Day Bright and Cheerful, But Not a Brilliant One for News.

The electric light works paid off their employes last Saturday.

The excursion business on the railroads has commenced in earnest.

Henry Darmeyer, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, is at Indianapolis on business.

Irvin Pierson went to Columbus today to take the foremanship of a large lumber establishment in that city.

There are a number of the employes of the Pittsburg car shops attending the picnic at the Apple Orchard to-day.

The Melville company, who play at the Temple this week, came in on the Wabash this morning from the east.

The foundry department of the Bass works is closed down to-day. The employes are observing Pentecost Monday.

C. C. Mordough, the traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, is in the city to-day on business.

J. J. Bennigan, machinist in the Pittsburg shops, who has been on the sick list for the past week, reported for duty again this morning.

Mr. J. J. Becker, one of the popular foremen in the Pennsylvania works, celbrated the forty-eighth anniversary of his birth in a very pleasant manner yesterday.

The Pennsylvania company have signed contracts to establish through trains from Jersey City, on the Atlantic coast, to San Francisco, on the Pacific coast.

Did you ever get left? If you did not, for information regarding the feelings of those who have, ask two prominent foremen of the Pittsburg shops. We will not tell the joke, other than to say that they are out 10 cents for street car fare and 25 cents for drayage.

Mr. Robert Harrison, the foreman of the machine department of the Pittsburg car shops, is quite ill. While engaged in dressing yesterday morning he was seized with a cramp and fell to the floor of his room. He was very ill last evening, but is better this morning, although not able to be at work.

The game of base ball Saturday afternoon between two nines from the Pittsburg shops, resulted in favor of the wood machinists, under the command of Fred Kanning, by a score of thirty to twenty. Christ Dessler, who captained the other nine, said some of his best men were not able to play and that accounts for their defeat.

Jack Bristol, who pulls the throttle of an engine out in Idaho, tells a singular story of a big owl, which occurred on one of his recent runs to Spring Hill. His engine was running at a good speed just above Blackfeet, when his headlight suddenly went out. He supposed it had blown out, and as daylight was coming on shortly, continued his run to Eagle Rock. There he made an investigation, and, to his surprise, found a big owl snugly ensconced behind the burner. He had been attracted by the glare of the headlight, and had made a dive for it while the engine was going at full speed. The glass was broken and the flame had been put out by the flap of his wings. He was easily captured, entirely unharmed, and borne in triumph to Butte, where he now sagaciously blinks behind the bar of a popular saloon.

There are all sorts of rumors flying around among railroad men in regard to new strike troubles on the roads centering at Chicago and our reporter hears a great deal of talk from the men during his rounds among them, but the probability is that the threatened trouble is greatly exaggerated and that it will not, at any rate, affect the Pennsylvania. The rumor was current this morning that the strike of the engineers on the "Q" road would be resumed at Chicago to-morrow and that the Pennsylvania company would join in it. In speaking with an official of the Pittsburg this morning—a gentleman who is in a position to know—our reporter learned that all this talk about new trouble was without any good foundation. Said he: "I do not think the roads will have any serious trouble with their train men and it will not affect the Pennsylvania company, anyhow. The reports you hear going around are greatly exaggerated."

Col. Sam B. Sweet was in the city over Sunday.
